Annual Picnic

Annual goody bag picnic for children with disabilities is an inclusive and joyous event that provides a fun-filled day for children with special needs at children's park at India Gate.

This event offers an opportunity for these children to socialise, engage in outdoor activities, and create happy memories. Each child receives a goody bag filled with treats and small gifts to take home, making it an extra special and memorable day.

“Children with disabilities are like butterflies with a broken wing. They are just as beautiful as all the other children, but they need a little help to spread their wings.” Unknown

Goody bag for every child

The picnic is organised with the help of volunteers and sponsors who provide support, resources, and hosted by us Society for Child Development. It is a great way to promote community involvement and raise awareness about the importance of inclusion and accessibility.

The annual picnic not only provides a day of fun for children with disabilities, but it also offers a chance for them to feel valued and celebrated for who they are. To feel appreciated, and included in the community while having a great time.

"INSIDE, OUTSIDE" AN ART INSTALLATION FOR ARTH CULTURAL FEST BY ZEE CHANNEL

"Inside, Outside" represents the juxtaposition of nature within our culture. Within us lies a certain timidity, vulnerability, simplicity that is able to project a vibrant aura. Since, children are the future of any society – our celebration of India can only start with our children, albeit differently-abled! Through the organisation the Society for Child Development, the complex life of people with disabilities is truly celebrated, mimicking the vividness and diversity of Indian culture. This cube or box represents the individual and the importance of what's inside. And having understood this inner reflection to begin reaching outside the box in joyous, colourful and vibrant strides ...

FOOD FOR THE SOUL

Feeding the needy, especially people with disabilities, is a crucial act of kindness and compassion that can have a significant impact on their lives. Many individuals with disabilities struggle to access healthy and nutritious food due to financial and physical constraints, making them vulnerable to malnutrition and other health issues. By providing them with nutritious meals, we can help improve their health and well-being, and also show them that they are valued and cared for. Feeding the needy, including those with disabilities, is an essential way of giving back to our communities and making a positive difference in the lives of others. It's a small but impactful act that can bring hope, happiness, and a sense of belonging to those in need.
